For Immediate Release

"Dining Out MetroWest", New Exciting Radio Program Hits the Air

Talk Show Dedicated to the Art and Entertainment of Dining Out and America's favorite Pastime...Food, Drinks and Socializing

Worcester, Ma, has a new radio talk show hosted by Christina Andrianopoulos and Allan Eisenberg. "Dining Out MetroWest" a weekly radio program is debuting on Sunday, November 5, 2006 at 1:00PM, from the studios of WCRN 830AM, a 50,000 Watt station with coverage extending beyond the borders of Worcester County and MetroWest. Listeners are promised an hour of interesting topics that revolve around Dining Out and the social aspect involved in going out.

Utilizing a weekly theme format the hosts have coined as vignettes, Christina and Allan will serve up witty discussions on the chicest places to eat, drink, and hangout with friends. A fun, trendy and informative venue, learn along with them as they talk to experts in the restaurant, bar and food industries to find out what is hot and what is not. ...where to go or not to go...where to be seen or not!

Spotlights will feature local celebrity chefs, special recipes, the latest fancy drinks, the best wines and spirits and much more. In addition, you can't go out without looking the part, therefore a special segment of the show is dedicated to "Style" hosted by Karon Shea of Karon Shea Model Management, Worcester, MA.

Eisenberg quips, "We want to let our audience know that no longer do we have to travel far to experience an evening of great dining. With all the restaurants and lounges popping up in Worcester County and MetroWest, we have a plethora of great eating establishments. Now, with quite an array of wonderful cuisine choices and eclectic atmospheres in the area, everyone's palate and taste can be satisfied right here in our back yard."

Andrianopoulos states, "Dining out is a fun past time. But eating, though the main event, is just a small part of the experience. Dining Out MetroWest will address many topics that we all face when we go out...from where to go, what to wear or how to look to make that "A" list. Also, we won't be shy and we will address those etiquette situations that we have all faced from time to time, such as tipping, or how to handle waiting in line at an opening, and much more." Andrianopoulos continues, "The suggestions are meant to be fun...and we don't mean to get anyone in trouble, but let's just say the telephone lines and our website will be available to anyone who wants to add something or just vent or shoot the breeze."

Sponsorship opportunities are available and each week sponsors will appear live on the show to talk about what they do best, relating to any of the compelling themes that comprise the show. Exciting topics cover the gamut from restaurants--to recipes; the newest cocktail--to the best wines; the chicest lounges and where to have fun; what to wear--to how to look the part, and much, much more. Informative but fun, listeners will tune in to an hour of interesting topics revolving around the social aspect of Dining Out and where to go.

About the Hosts

CHRISTINA Andrianopoulos' day job is operating a Strategic Marketing firm and has offered her expertise to a myriad of clients locally, and globally. Since her return from Manhattan, CHRISTINA has helped launched many new restaurants and businesses.
